Reme little reply was made.

Mr. Culver said the return had some things relevant, and albert not. The Judge said the proof must be us to Mr.
Tappan's authority to act; the right of Trainer, as its father, to the child; and the character of Trainer, and his aftents to have the custody of the child.

Mr. Celver proposed that the testimony of Trainer alreside taken, be admitted; but Mr. Brady objected, and said
Mr. C. must go on and prove everything. He would admit authing.

It. Culver said they had three or four communications in Trainer, as to his authority to Mr. Tappan.

If. Brady insisted upon Trainer testifying to it. T. was led by Mr. Culver to the stand. Mr. Brady objected to

All the bright of the stand. Mr. Brady objected to be sometime to the stand. Mr. Brady objected to be sometime to the stand. Mr. Brady objected to be sometime to the child; I sent telegraphic dispatches to Mr. Tappan; the child; I sent telegraphic dispatches to Mr. Tappan; the child; I sent telegraphic dispatches to Mr. Tappan; to Mr. Briabane to do so, to stop my child; sent one to him and one to you (Mr. C) to take care of my child; Jame him and one to you (Mr. C) to take care of my child; Jame him and one to you far. Briabane to the papers, is my daughter; she is Traiter, spoken of in the papers, is my daughter; she is about 10 years old; born in Mobile, I think, in 1844; I have got it written down at home; it was the year of the split of the American Conference; she Rived in Mobile till sometime before Christmas, 1852, when she went to Cincinnati; this woman, Rose Cooper, or Rose Portor, as she has been called here, took her away.

Q.—What did she say to you on taking her away?

Q.—What did she say to you on taking her away?

Objected to by Mr. Brady. Mr. Culver said it would be abown it was brought from Mobile without his consent, &c. The Judge said if the child was a slave at Mobile the consent of the father was not necessary. He would, however, admit the fortimuny. The kidnapping question has nothing to do with this case.

The Judge sand it has enecessary. He would, however, admit the testimony. The kidnapping question has nothing to do with this case.

Winess—My wife and myself both offered to buy the child and give her $400; she said she would bring the child back at Christmas; I never saw her back there; a lady told me that Mrs. C. had gone to Cincinnati, and I followed her there for my child; I went twice; first, I think, b December; did not find her; I sappeas because she had changed ber name; she went in Mobile as Ross Cooper; no one knew her by the name in Cincinnati; I returned back to Mobile; came a second time because a lady told me she was in Cincinnati, and went by name of Ross Porter; I started again, heard of her at Cincinnati, but did not find her; I went to the house where she had lived, and was told the had left for New York on her way to California, having Jane with her; I went to Dr. Brisbane and saked him to write on to Mr. Tappan for me, then I got another gentleman, Mr. Hern, to send one to Mr. Tappan, and then I came on myrelf; I first saw my child, after coming here, in this Court House; I want Mr. Tappan to take the child and raise her.

To Judge—I do not intend to take the child back to Courf House; I want Mr. Tappan to take the child and raise her.

To Judge—I do not intend to take the child back to Alabama, I told Mr. Tappan I would let him have the child, if he would take care of her for me; the mother of Jane was named Emma Washington: I left her in Alabama; she now goes by the name of E-mma Trainer; I want Mr. Tappan to have the child, and then I am sure it will be free, and be well raised, for Dr. Brisbane said he was a gentleman; I would not let Miss Porter have the child on any account, if I could help it; I am afraid she would sell it, and then I think she would not raise it well; I don't know any good of her; if she has been a lady she would sell it, and repute: she was away to California; I understood for about four years; the little girl was hired out while she was gone, to one person. (Mr. Brady said no further questions were necessary as to that point, would admit the character of the house.)

The Judge said, you admit character of house, but she intends to get married and reform.

Mr. Calver remarked that the counsel could not answer for the future.

Mr. Calver remarked that the counsel could not answer for the future.

Witness—I am about 35 or 36; I cannot tell exactly the age of my wife, but she is younger than I am; we have been married near about sixteen years! I have lived in Mebile all my lifetime; I never was a slave; have been always free; my wife and myself belong to the Methodist Episcopal Church; the church is colored and white too; there are while preachers and colored too.

By Judgos-We were publicly married at the house of a man named Sanuted, (his ar name, as I understand.) who owned my wife; it was in the kitchen of his house; married by a man named Douglas; she then took my name, and I visited her every day and night there; cannot tell the exact number of years it was before she was sold to Misa Porter; I have also an elder child; I have always fixed with my wife, as man and wife, since we were married; she has always been called Trainer since.

Cross-examined—I do not know the year in which I was born; I learned a trade; I was not bound out; worked with a white man I think named Dick Redwood; do not receilect my age when I went to him; I was very small; I learned afterwards, 7 or 8 years, to read and write; went to night school; worked with Redwood 6 or 7 years; do not know exactly my age when I was married; I ludge of my age by my health and strength, visited girls after I became a man, did so because they lived in the same oity; never taw any that I loved except Emma; have five hoothers in Alabama, some older and some younger; do not know their eyes; there is difference in size and hight do not recellect the year in which I was married; believe Mr. Samuel kept a store in Mobile; the house hat not in the kitchen when I was married; I asw him that night; Douglas is a carpenter and a preacher; I believe he has gone to Liberia; I asked Mr. Samuel before I married Emm; he had a lady in the house but Emma.

A questien was asked witness as to whether he had ever gone with any other woman since he was married. Objected to by Mr. Culver, as there e produced.

The Judge said his character might be important.

[The point, for the present, was suspended.]

Judge, to witness—Why were you not in the City or onday morning last?

Mr. Brady, said they meant to ask the witness that by and tell her to call a child there sister; and, if she did not, you would whip her?

A.—No, Sir; I know nothing about that; I never done it.

Q.—Was there ever a child you told her so in regard to?

A.—No, Sir; when we were all at Louisville, when Miss Cooper took us there, there was a little girl there Jane used to call Sissy; I never told her to call any child Sissy; I think it was in 1848; remained there during the summer; lived in house with Miss Cooper; I lived in kitchen part; my wife and I had some little spats, the same as others; my wife spoke as to other women, but she could not prove any; when I was out sometimes she would be jealous; there was one woman she spoke of, and they had a quarrel, it was said, shout me: was told she hart my wife; in Mobile Mrs. C. lived in Lawrence st. and another street; have seen hundreds of men go in there.

To recover damages for alleged libel, contained in a card, the substance of which was "Beware of the Swindier," and saying Ibelano's fire proof saies were to be had at No. 37 Day st. Two safes were purchased by a party, but one of them proved to be bad. The libel complained of, was a kind of hand bill, and enclosed in an envelope to plaintiff. It was intended not to be a publication, or if it referred to any person, it was the party from whom the article was bought. Verdict for defendant.

Mr. R. Owned two buildings in Pitt-st, in one of which he resided, and plaintiff, with others in the adjoining one, Defendant, the owner, caused an excavation for a vault to be made in the rear of the lots, part or each—the excavation being about ten feet diameter to fifteen, or more, deep. A child of plaintiff fell into the excavation, and was considerably and, it is contended, permanently injured. Sait is brought to recover damages, amount laid at $3,000. For plaintiff it is alleged the excavation was left in an unprotected state, notwuthstanding remonstrances. For decrease it is said there was a protection, about a foot high. Scaled verdict this forenous.

Before Judge Cameral.

To recover damages for alleged assault and battery. Plaintiff is a German, we believe, a groocer; defendant keeps a wholesleftriit store in Washingtonst. Plaintiff alleges that while at the store, and in the act of removing come barrels of fruit which he had bought, defendant struck and severely assaulted him. He claims $1,000 damages.

In defense it is said that Mr. Thomas, being much engaged at the time, was inquired of by plaintiff as to the price of chamberries, pointing to two bile, which stood on the walk. Mr. T. replied $10, meaning $10 a barrel; that plaintiff then went into the store and told the book keeper to make out a bill for the two barrels, and procured a pot of blacking next door, and marked them both on marking the barrels. The Jury could not agree and were discharged.

For alleged false inn risonment, damages hid at $1,000. Philattiff complains, that having been employed by Mr. Coddington, on pier No. 8 N. R., night 27th Aug. last, to watch some ivory, when he was given by defendant into eastedy of a police officer, conveyed to Third Ward Station-House, on a charge of stealing, and next morning to the Halls of Justice, but no person appeared against him and he was discharged. He brings the present suit. In defense it was alleged in pleadings, that defendant is an inspector of customs, and was on duty that night at said pier, that plaintiff was seen about among the bores, and would give no account of himself, and was arrested by the police officer. No person appeared for the defends, Verthet for plaintiff, $250. [The Jury on their return complained of the Jury room in which they had been placed.]
